Steph Calvert is an award winning and published illustrator with a knack for hand lettering, humor, and super cute characters. She likes donuts. A lot.

She earned her BFA in Computer Art from Savannah College of Art and Design and has 15+ years of professional experience, including 10 years as an in house artist and 6 busy years of self employment. Her illustration work has been seen worldwide on apparel, in print, and online.

Steph's clients are located all over the U.S., and have run the gamut from indie brands Colorful Cities up to household names like Kohl's Department Stores and Hartford Healthcare. She's kind of rad.
